

Dr Joel Gilmore
Principal – Market Policy Development
Australian Energy Market Operator

Dr Gilmore is a Principal at the Australian Energy Market Operator (AEMO), where he supports the efficient operation of our electricity network now and into the future. Before joining AEMO in 2016, he was an energy sector consultant, working on a broad range of projects ranging from technical studies of the integration of renewable energy to designing emissions reduction policies for governments.

He is also a passionate science communicator, featuring in a recent TV show on food science, and has a PhD in physics.